Orthopaedics & Traumatology: Surgery & Research (OTSR), and its French version Revue de Chirurgie Orthopédique et Traumatologique (RCOT) publish Original articles on clinical or basic science research topics relevant to orthopaedics, Case reports relating to rare and illustrative observations, Technical notes presenting innovations in the use of exploration or evaluation materials, Review articles, and Letters to the Editor from readers on articles published in this journal. Articles are chosen for publication based on critical analysis by at least two expert reviewers and reported by an editor assigned to the submission.

Official Publication of the Société Française de Chirurgie Orthopédique et Traumatologique (French Society for Orthopaedic Surgery and Traumatology), the journal publishes one special issue every year in the journal's French version (RCOT), including all the abstracts of the papers presented at the society's annual congress. In addition, three supplements with issues 4, 6 and 8 report research from the Société orthopédique de l'Ouest (the Western Orthopaedic Society), SoFCOT's associate societies, and the Société Française d'Arthroscopie (the French Arthroscopy Society). Basic science articles are published in the journal's English version (OTSR).

The journal agrees to use the "Uniform requirements for manuscripts submitted to biomedical journals"

(www.icmje.org).
